Rotations 2nd Hand Shop, Las Americas

Partners Julie and Nigel have made lots of changes over the last few years, with the focus firmly on very good quality second hand furniture that cost €1000's new and now can be bought for €100's, and the introduction of the Adored Again range of totally original pieces at very cost-effective prices (See main advert on Page 41).

Tenerife South Real Estate Association Cocktail Party - 19th January 2018

The above Party was attended by various local officials and real estate professionals, to formally launch The Association - all members of which are from other parts of Europe and further afield, and who now live and work in Tenerife, treating the island as their home, and contributing to its prosperity and social development.

The purpose of the Cocktail Party was to bring attention to the Association and its principal goal: to 'professionalise' the Real Estate Sector, at the same time addressing the less than professional people operating as 'Estate Agents' who have no qualifications, experience or office premises, often causing financial damage to clients and giving the industry a bad name.

To consolidate TENERIFE SOUTH REAL ESTATE ASSOCIATION as a prestigious brand, they need to create a professional school, such as those existing in many other European countries, such as lawyers, architects and engineers etc. Entry to this school would guarantee things such as Standards of Behaviour, which, in the case of any infringement would mean immediate expulsion so the person could not continue to operate here.

As the school doesn't yet exist, the Association is trying to fill the gap, selecting those real estate companies that have operated honourably in Tenerife for many years and who already fulfil the following fundamental requirements:

All applicants must/must have:

- ✓ An exemplary professional record with a minimum of 8 years' experience.
- ✓ Accept the Association's Rules.
- ✓ An Office.
- ✓ Respect other members and honour any 'Collaboration Agreements'.
- ✓ Have no upheld Complaint against them (fraud or otherwise).
- ✓ Professional Indemnity Insurance cover.

The Association's current Members have 32 offices open to the public and 150 staff members, who deal with as many as 5,000 clients every year, selling between 1,400 and 1,800 annually.

Roll out of the Association with Darío Rodríguez, President; Domenico Deliso, Vice-President; Óscar Izquierdo, President, Fepedo; José Manuel Jiménez, Fepeco; and Isidro Martín from Expertos Inmobiliarios, Santa Cruz de Tenerife.

Darío Rodríguez, David Pérez, Councillor of Tourism, Arona Town Hall; Ángela Mena, ex-Councillor of Santa Cruz de Tenerife; and Paulino Rivero, wife of ex-President of the Canarian Government.

Gemma Metcalfe's new book – March 18

It was fate that she crossed my path. And that is why I chose her.

The day Louisa and James bring their newborn son home from the hospital marks a new beginning for all of them. To hold their child in their arms makes all the stress and trauma of fertility treatment worth it. Little Cory is theirs and theirs alone. Or so they think...

After her mother's suicide when she was a child, Louisa's life took an even darker turn. But meeting James changed everything. She can trust him to protect her, and to never leave her. Even if, deep down, she worries that she has never told him the full truth about her past, or the truth about their baby.

But someone knows all her secrets – and that person is watching and waiting, with a twisted game that will try to take everything Louisa holds dear.

About the Author

Local author Gemma Metcalfe has released her second psychological thriller: A Mother's Sacrifice. 32 year old Gemma, who lives in Golf del Sur, Tenerife, was first published in March 2017 when leading publishers HarperCollins offered her a two book contract. Her debut thriller: Trust Me, became an American bestseller and has sold over 30,000 copies worldwide.

A Mother's Sacrifice, which was released on March 9th, is available through Amazon kindle, iBooks and Kobo.

OFFICIAL REGISTRATION OF ALTERATIONS OR EXTENSIONS TO PROPERTIES

I am often asked by property owners if it is possible to get official, retrospective Town Hall approval for works carried out some time ago without appropriate Building Licences. ie Works which have enlarged the floor space of a property illegally. They are usually very concerned that they could at some stage in the future be fined or even be faced with tearing down that which has been created or altered.

In many cases the answer is yes, you can have the works officially recognized, providing a number of conditions are met:

- 1) The works carried out must not occupy a protected "green" zone, a public space, a public highway or walkway or a protected site of natural beauty. Enquiries in your local Town Hall should confirm this point one way or the other.
- 2) At least four years must have passed from when the works were completely finished.
- 3) That no-one has lodged an official complaint (denuncia) against the works, which has then been ignored and left unresolved.
- 4) That the property is not within a Community, ie a Complex where community fees are paid which relate to the floor area of the individual property.

In Spanish what needs to be applied for is a "Certificado de prescripción de infracción urbanística" or Certificate of recognition of a planning infraction.

The paperwork needed to apply for this is normally put together by a Technical Architect or Architect. This is because aerial photographs, plans, a description and detailed measurements of the property both in its original and altered state are required, together with the normal accompanying documents such as copy of deed (escritura), NIE and IBI receipts. Also within the submission the same professional must sign a declaration declaring that the works to the property were completed more than 4 years ago. This statement needs to be supported by aerial photographs gained from a recognized Canarian government organization which must clearly show the external alterations to the floor area of the property.

Depending on the Town Hall applied to this process can take between one and 6 months. In certain cases for instance where a property is adjacent to the Sea, the Spanish Coastal Department will need to be consulted to ensure that there has not been encroachment into the protected coastal zone. If this is the case it is highly likely that the application will be refused.

Once the application to the Town Hall has been approved, their administration charges paid and the Certificado de prescripción de infracción urbanística has been obtained this can then be used to draft a complementary property deed.

This deed differs from the original property deed as it declares that new works have been carried out to the property, describes what has altered in words, tables and plans and perhaps most importantly defines the new revised floor area that then be presented to the Registro de la Propiedad (Spanish Land Registry) where the notarized deed will be registered.

The importance of registering this is that when the property comes to be sold or passed to heirs, and when the customary searches are requested, that which is made to the Land Registry will show and describe the distribution and floor property valued to raise a mortgage the person valuing will discover that part of the property is unregistered and will likely recommend that this be rectified. It could result in the mortgage sum offered being less than you or a potential purchaser had hoped for as it will be based on the smaller original floor area.

Over the last few years I have worked with many clients in Adeje, Arona, San Miguel and Guía de Isora and each time been able to reach the point of officially registering the enlarged property at the land registry.

If you or the previous owner of a property you now own has extended that property and if you would like to know if you can progress in the manner described above please do not hesitate to contact me, Philip Wright, Spanish Technical Architect and Chartered Building Surveyor to discuss further. My mobile number is 667 757323.

the property occupies. At this point a further plan is produced which defines the exact coordinates of the perimeter of the property and any surrounding land. This is attached to the new deed. Once this deed has been signed by the owner(s) before a Notary it can area of your property as it actually is. This will make things much clearer and less contentious at a time when delays in rectifying such matters could be costly, time consuming and could possibly jeopardize a sale.

Also if you or a potential purchaser is having the

ENERGY PERFORMANCE CERTIFICATES IN SPAIN

FEBRUARY 2018 UPDATE

The total number of Energy Performance Certificates carried out in the Canaries since June 2013 now stands at approximately 178,165, with some 2,065 being registered in February. This shows that that 20% fewer inspections were completed last month compared with February 2017. This makes sense as some of the properties coming up for sale now will probably have been sold before and so have a Certificate from the last sale. It might also reflect the fact that fewer properties are now coming onto the market than at this time last year. This of course groups both residential and commercial properties and those for sale as well as for rent in all of the Islands which together form the Canaries.

For readers unaware of Energy Performance Certificates (EPC's), they were introduced in Spain and its dependencies by Royal Decree on 5th April 2013. This Law requires that, from 1st June 2013, an EPC must be obtained by the owner whenever a domestic or commercial property is Built, Sold or Rented.

Selling your property

From 1st June 2013 property owners are required by law to present an Energy Performance Certificate when a property is placed on the market and prior to any advertising. When the property is sold, the Notary will need to see the EPC, termed the Certificado de Eficiencia Energética in Spain.

Renting your property

Either you or your agent, must obtain an EPC. An agent will not be legally allowed to offer or advertise your property for long term letting without one. Where a property has already been let prior to 1st June 2013, no EPC is required until one tenant leaves and the property is offered for long term rental again. If your property was built after 2007 you should already have an EPC provided by the seller. If you only rent your property out on a short term basis, for less than 4 months of each year, you may not need to have an EPC. If you are the tenant your landlord or the letting agent should be able to show you the EPC for your property.

The EPC contains:

Information about a property's energy use and typical energy costs, and recommendations as to how you may be able to reduce energy use and save money.

An EPC allocates an Energy Efficiency Rating, ranging from 'A' (most efficient) to 'G' (least efficient). The Certificate, registered with the Canarian Government is valid for 10 years.

How to arrange an EPC:

If you are selling or renting out property, you will need to engage an Accredited Assessor, who will visit your property to inspect and then produce and register your properties Energy Performance Certificate.

If you have any questions, or wish to arrange for me, Philip Wright, to carry out your energy Performance Certificate please call me on 667 757323.

Top Tips for Buying in Tenerife

Buying property abroad can be a daunting experience, so although I have a full run down of the buying procedure in Tenerife here for you to look through, here are my top tips for buying property in Tenerife.

1. Always use a lawyer.

Many estate agents will say that they will handle the paperwork for you - don't let them. The cost of using a lawyer could well save you more in the long run and if anything goes wrong, the lawyer will be held liable - an estate agent won't be.

2. Do your research before you buy.

Many people will leave their brain at home when they come to Tenerife to buy a property here. They'll do things that they wouldn't dream of doing in their own country. Research is key.

3. Use a Foreign Exchange Broker.

Many people using currency other than the Euro will use their bank to transfer the funds to buy a property in Tenerife. The thing is the bank is not your friend...they will not be giving you the best exchange rate for your transfer and if you are transferring a large amount of money, this could amount to thousands saved for you.

4. Buy through a known estate agent.

Here in Spain there is no legal requirement to be a member of an industry association and although there are plenty of trustworthy agents, there are quite a few less than trustworthy, so I would say use an agent that you can see has been recommended by others.

5. Make sure you have set aside money for taxes and fees.

You might be excited about buying your new holiday home, but make sure that you have between 8% and 10% of the purchase price held back to pay notary, land registry and lawyers' fees - plus the tax for buying a property here.

6. Location, location, location.

In the plain light of day, this is quite obvious, but when you're being shown loads of lovely properties to buy and the sun is shining and maybe you're suffering from last night's over indulgences, you may not be thinking straight, but as always location is of great importance.

7. Don't be rushed into anything.

You're going to have to sign paperwork and you're going to have to pay money over. This is all standard stuff... but don't be rushed into doing anything. Don't be fooled into the "...this is the last one available..." trap. Maybe it is the last one and if you like it and you are happy then fine, but don't be rushed.

8. Consider the resale.

One day you'll be doing the selling. Think about the future and the people that you will be able to market your property to when the time comes to sell.
